NIDO

NIDO — With Nido, Ann Van Hoey designed playful, contemporary tableware in the tradition of high-quality bone china tableware, accompanied by much craftsmanship. By combining different patterns, a fresh collection has been created, all of which fit wonderfully together and form a beautiful whole.

For Ann, the distinctive character of a plate or cup lies in the object's shape, and the structure applied. That's what's most striking about her latest collection, Nido. She uses computer technology to generate the 3D models she needs to make her moulds.

Ann Van Hoey is certainly not unknown among lovers of ceramics. The ceramist from Mechelen has been highly regarded for years in Belgium and abroad. Her work can be admired at exhibitions and in museums worldwide, from New York to Taiwan. Ann Van Hoey has been designing tableware in bone china for Serax for over 10 years. Just like during her free work, the design process for tableware starts with a fairly mathematical approach, which has defined her style over the years.
