

WIND & FIRE

Marie Michielssen

SERAX

With Wind & Fire, designer Marie Michielssen makes a foray into a relatively new field, namely glass. A very lively material, that is shaped using a combination of wind and fire. She has transposed her organic paper mâché EARTH vases into glass. At the same time, she has also added completely new shapes to the collection. "The shape of these vases is reminiscent of old pharmacy pots", says Marie. "I like the proportions of these pots." Marie felt that glass offered her an opportunity to experiment with colour. "I stuck with rather earthy, natural colours for the organic shapes with the eye-catching ears, choosing shades of brown, green and dark blue. For the sleeker models, we discussed the various options, but ultimately, we went with a very distinctive blue and cognac. The transition between these two colours reminds me of the transition between the sea and the sand." The possibilities are endless. While these vases can be used for a traditional flower arrangement, they are also perfectly suited for a still-life with just one or a few flowers.

MARIE MICHIELSSEN

Marie Michielssen has designed for Serax for many years. Home designer Marie Michielssen draws her inspiration from daily life. She lets different stimuli lead and inspire her to make new designs. Her impressions are translated into original designs such as tealights, vases, flower pots and canvass bags which invariably come back in a new form in every new collection. Marie also gives old or forgotten materials a new use.
